This Freycinet commercial barge offers immense potential for creating an original and atypical living or working space. It has the status of a floating establishment open to the public.

Its industrial character and modular space make it a rare find on the market. The steel structure and original features give this building a unique, authentic charm, and offer a host of layout options. It has a cabin, two toilets and a shower. It can easily be adapted to create offices, accommodation, artists' studios or any other creative project, thanks to its EFRP approval.

A micro wastewater treatment plant has already been installed.
