LOCABOAT 930

This Locaboat 930 is a pénichette suited both to inland cruising and to use as a leisure home on the water.
The wheelhouse and saloon are well lit thanks to their large windows. The interior helm station has a wooden wheel, and side doors on either side of the wheelhouse make boarding and manoeuvring easier.
The galley is equipped for self-sufficient living on board. The forward cabin has a double berth; a single berth is fitted along the corridor. The heads compartment has a WC and a shower.
The engine is installed under the sole, at the helm station — a design specific to this model that contributes to the boat's shallow draft (0.65 m). At 9.30 metres and easy to handle, the 930 is suited to cruising on canals, rivers and inland waterways.
